Editor's Foreword

STUDIES ARE THE FOOD OF YOUTH
AND THE CONSOLATION OF AGE:
THEY ADORN PROSPERITY AND ARE THE COMFORT AND REFUGE OF ADVERSITY.

How many times in the last few years have we read Cicero's words on Riverside's edifice! And yet have we as often thought about their meaning?

According to Socrates, men are born with a knowledge of all things; he used, as an example, geometry. At birth, systematic principles and propositions become confused in the mind, disordered, and seemingly forgotten. Questions must be put to the young – leading questions – to stimulate their memories; this is the Socratic method. With this stimulation, their inborn omniscience will be revived.

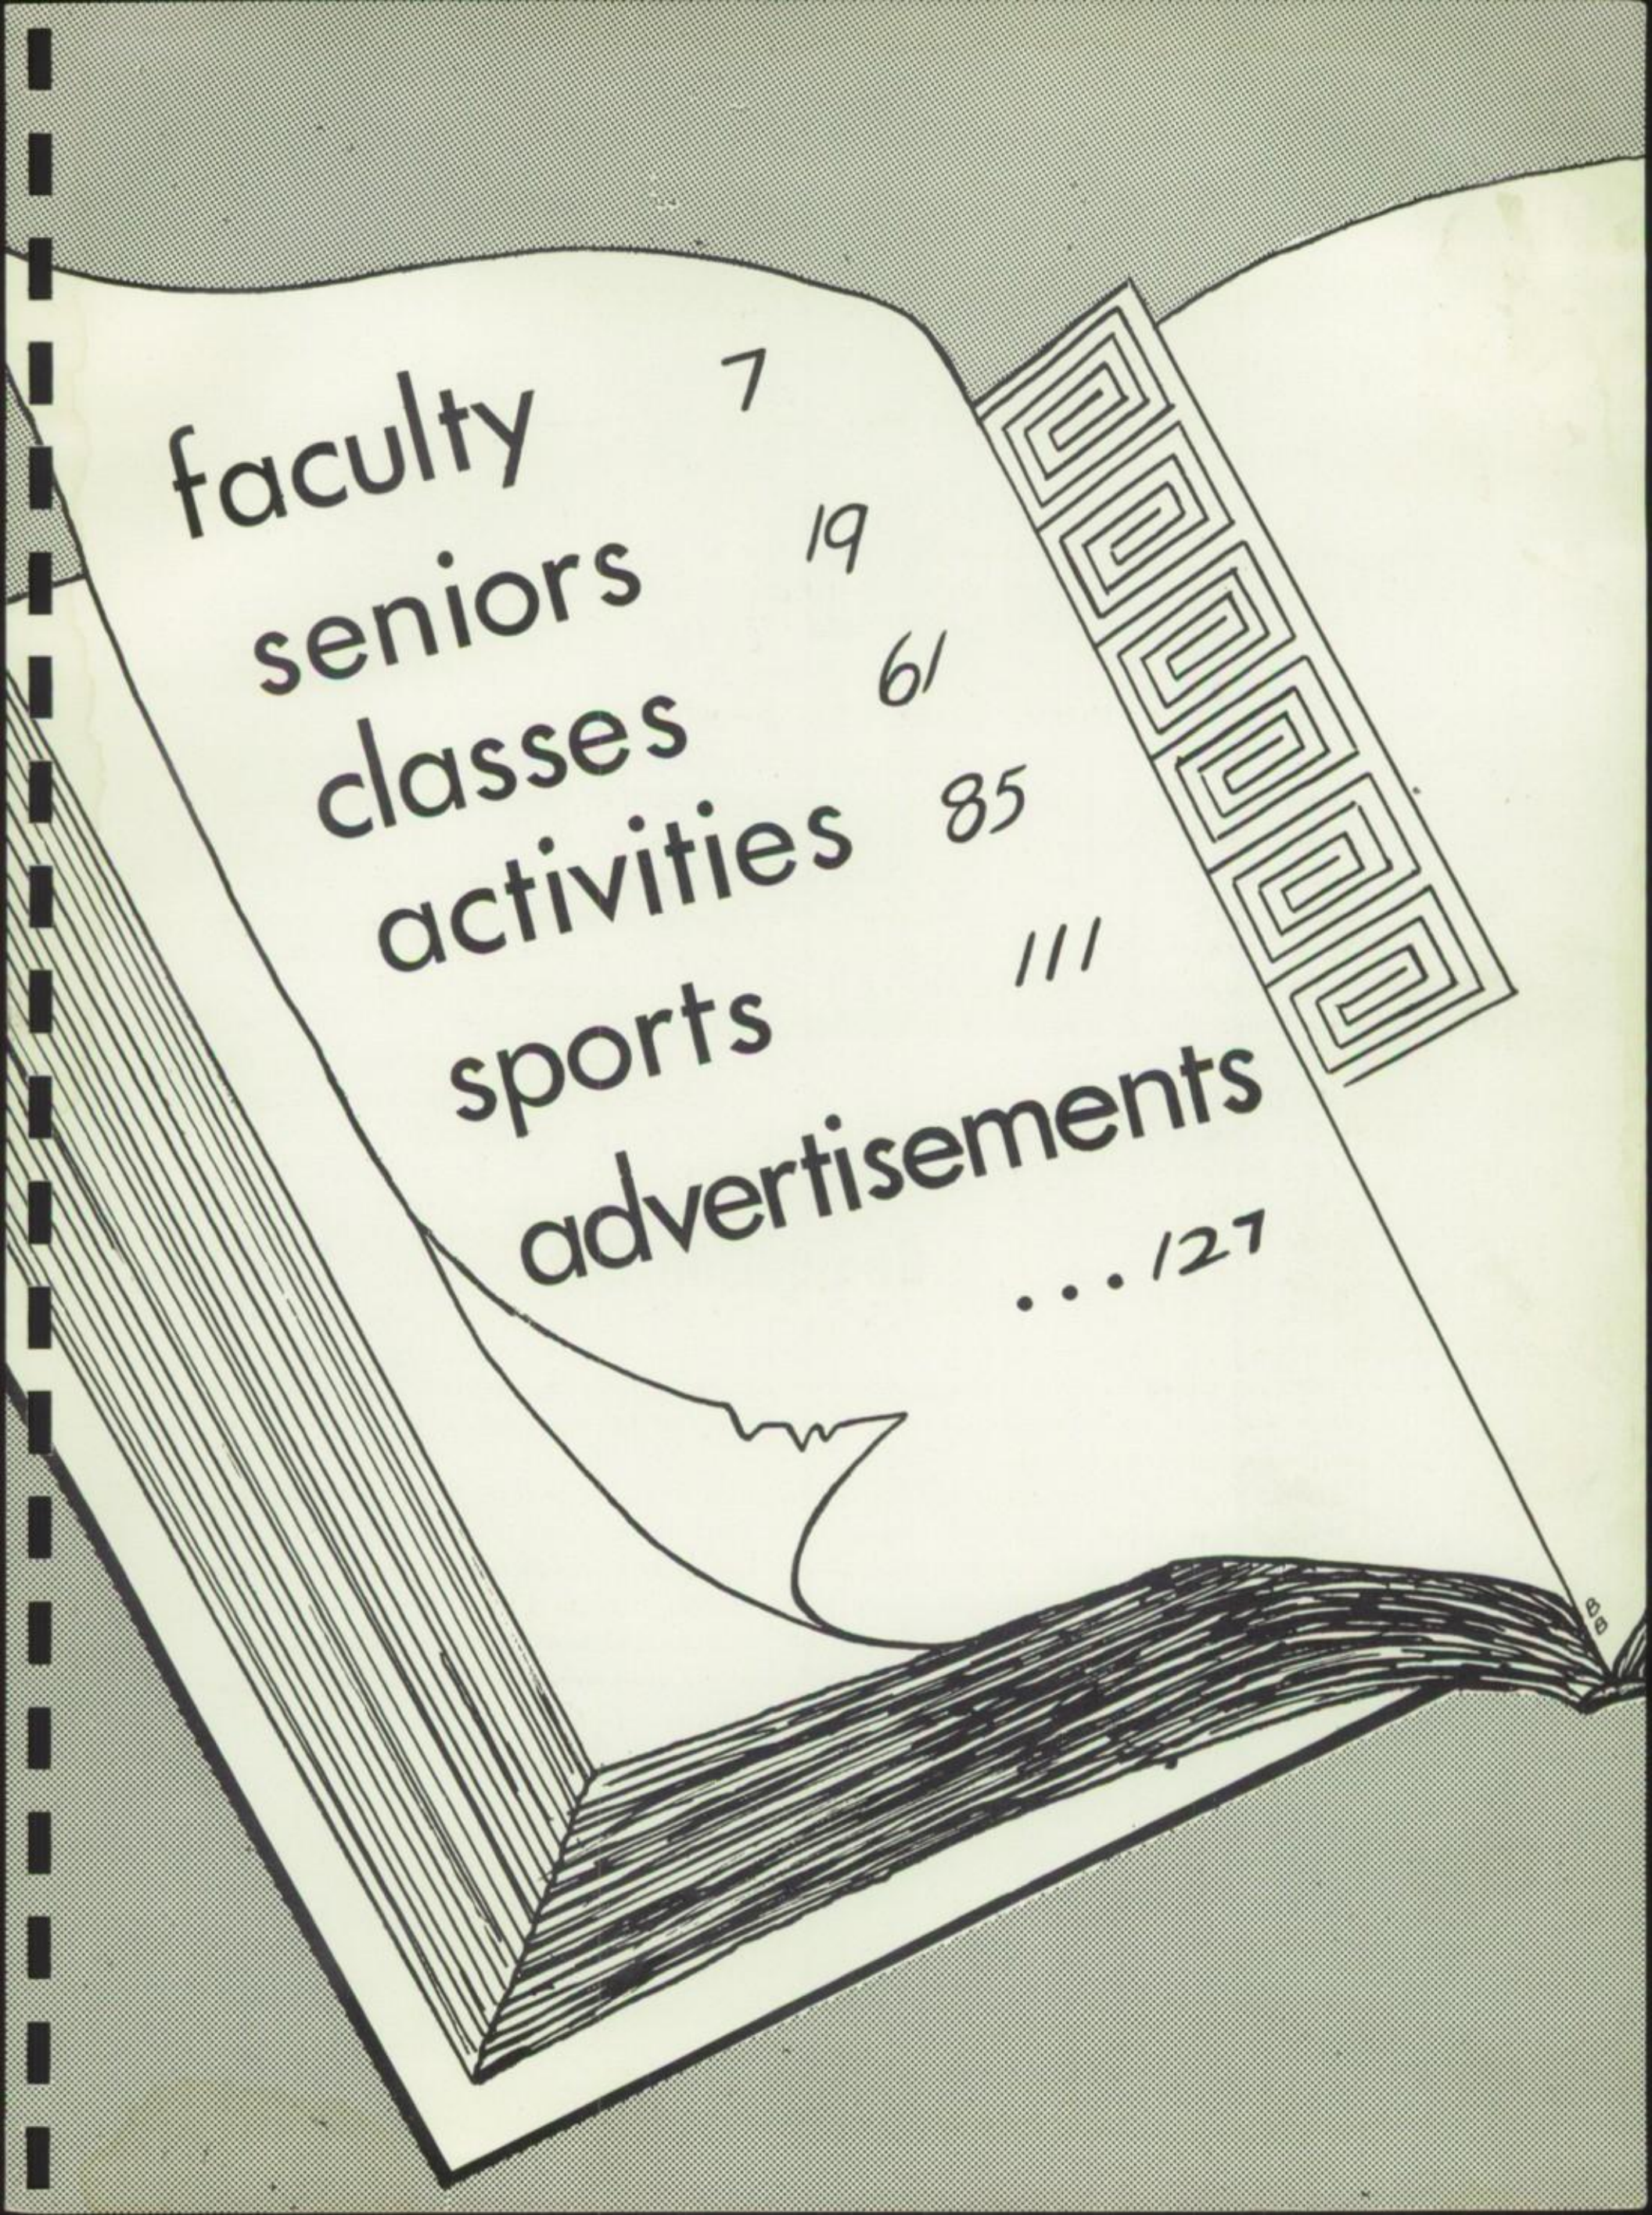

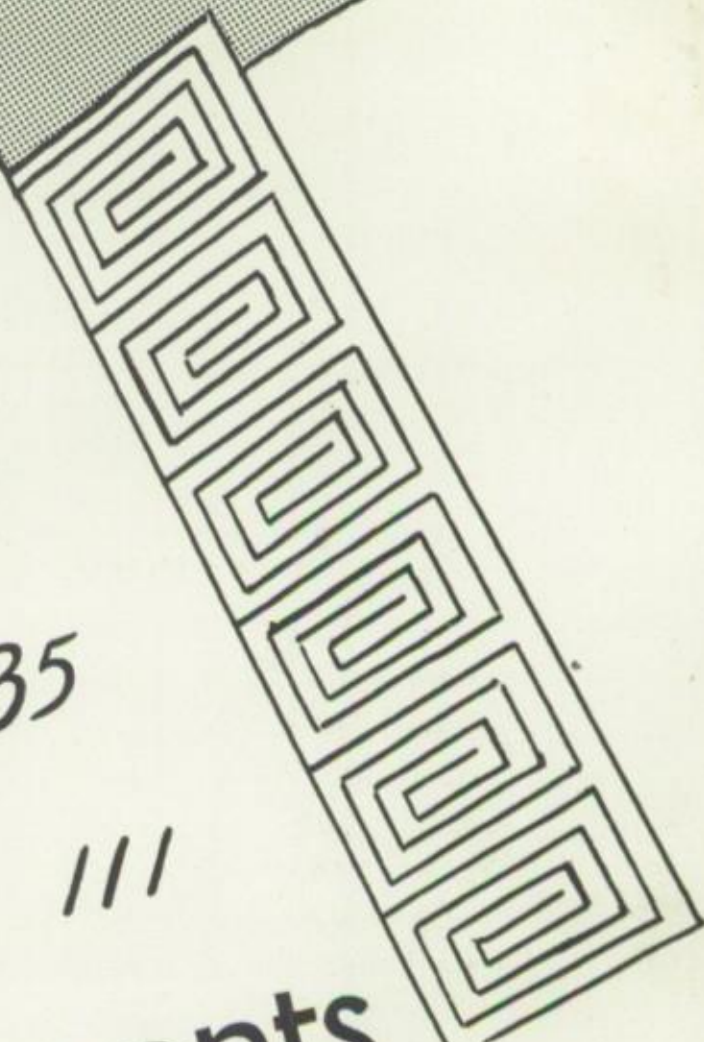

Though science (should I say "current" science?) may not wholly agree, still Socrates was right in at least one way. Perhaps man is not born with an infinite number of ideas in his mind, but he has nevertheless a unique capacity to learn quickly all that past ages have learned; he need not re-formulate, or re-invent, each concept in many fields of learning, by himself. Instead, in a relatively brief period he can READ the ideas and discoveries of generations. Yes, READING, and her sister art WRITING, may be called the greatest gifts God has bestowed on man, after life itself.

It follows that all the knowledge we have today either is a direct inheritance from previous generations, centuries, or milleniums, or is based on a foundation of the moral, scientific, artistic, and religious concepts of our ancestors. In this book we have tried to show how a few particles of Classic Civilization, the Graeco-Roman culture, influence our lives in high school.

And in the years which lie ahead, we must never lose sight of the prime objective, the pursuit of knowledge. If we overemphasize the pursuit of material profit, which is not lasting, we might as well drink the cup of poison hemlock which silenced one of the wisest men in the world, who never ceased to ask, "Why?"

"Learning is a name superior to beauty; learning is better than hidden treasure. Learning is a companion on a journey to a strange country; learning is strength inexhaustible. A man in this world without learning is as a beast of the field." – From the Hitopadesa (Sanskrit, about A.D. 500)

Dedication

We, the class of 1960, proudly dedicate our Skipper to Mr. Charles W. Whitney, the first principal of Riverside, in special appreciation for his continued interest in and enthusiasm for our school.

In 1930 Mr. Whitney launched our school with a vigour that is still apparent thirty years later. Three years after joining the Hutchinson Central High School faculty, Mr. Whitney became assistant principal and stayed in this position for ten years; thus he was well qualified when he came to Riverside. Sixteen years after his retirement Mr. Whitney is known by every person on campus, and he is genuinely liked for his loyalty and enthusiasm. We take pride in dedicating our yearbook to Mr. Whitney.

Carl S. Walz

Carl S. Walz

Riverside High School is the only school in Buffalo which can boast that all its principals are still living – Charles W. Whitney, Ray W. Spear, and our present principal Carl S. Walz. Mr. Walz was appointed assistant principal in January of 1957 and succeeded Mr. Spear in 1958.

A.B. Ravin

Assistant Principal

A. Benjamin Ravin

Mr. Ravin, our assistant principal, came to Riverside at the beginning of the school year. Although new in this capacity, he is not a stranger to Riverside. He served here as teacher of social studies from 1934 until 1955 when he left to become assistant principal at school 72.

Guidance Staff

ARTHUR DOWNES

Each day, in the newly remodelled guidance office, many students await consultation on problems, interpretation of test results and information about colleges and jobs. It is through the efforts of Miss Ford, Miss Syracuse and Mr. Downes that pupils are able to select courses which will help in their chosen professions.

A. Downes

Miss Ford's time is spent helping the sophomore and senior girls. It is she who sees to it that seniors wishing to attend college submit applications promptly and accurately. Miss Syracuse guides freshmen in planning their schedules and helps the juniors decide what to aim for after graduation. Mr. Downes is in charge of all boys and arranges for part time employment for upper classmen who wish experience in the business world.

Best wishes to Judith, who presided over the Guidance office Period I
Sarah R. Ford

SARAH FORD

JOSEPHINE SYRACUSE

The three guidance counsellors work together to insure that there are no square pegs in round holes at Riverside. Not only do they aid present students in assessing their capabilities and limitations; but through visits to neighboring grammar schools, they prepare future students for a smooth transition to high school by advocating a wise selection of courses and an understanding of the added responsibilities which come with growing maturity.

Retired Teachers

Miss Helen Reitz came to Riverside High School as a teacher of mathematics in 1930. During her years at Riverside, Miss Reitz taught such subjects as elementary algebra, intermediate and advanced algebra, trigonometry and solid geometry. Students could always count on her additional help with problems not only of an academic but of a personal nature. Miss Reitz left Riverside and the teaching profession in June 1959. Her retirement consists of gardening, travel and a general enjoyment of life.

Miss Juvenilia Caseman taught business subjects at Riverside for many years. Among these subjects were typewriting, shorthand, transcription and business arithmetic. Miss Caseman received her Bachelor of Science degree at New York University and her Masters at the University of Buffalo. Very active in her profession, she co-authored a text book with Brewer and Hurlbert. Because of her high standards in teaching, Miss Caseman was among the teachers who wrote the syllabus for the introduction to business course.

Miss Helen Tewksbury graduated from Cornell University and taught for many years at Kensington High School before she was appointed to Riverside in September of 1956. She put her broad background into practice in teaching French, Spanish and social studies. During her relatively short stay at Riverside, she gained the admiration of students for her ability to "parler français" and "hablar español."

Administrative Staff

After many years of efficient service, Miss Anne Lockwood, senior stenographer, retired last year. All who profited from her kindness wish her happiness in her new found leisure and hope that Riverside will remain in her memory.

New faces have joined familiar ones in the front office. At the switchboard is Mrs. Aileen Broderick. Mrs. Edna Atkins, along with other tasks, checks weekly and monthly attendance reports. The staff is complete with Mrs. Lillian Sussman who compiles college and business recommendations for enterprising seniors.

The smooth functioning of a school depends on the joint efforts of those behind the scenes. Mr. Frank Savage, engineer, and Mr. Norman Heubsch, custodian, care for the physical plant. Providing the nourishment which contributes to student well-being is Miss Dorothy Sineni, dietician. Mr. Milton Kuhn, the attendance supervisor assures the continuance of the record which cites Riverside as third best in attendance in the city.

A stylized, high-contrast illustration in white and light green on a dark background. Two sailboats are depicted: a larger one at the top left and a smaller one at the bottom left. Both have striped sails and are shown from a side-on perspective. The water is represented by dark, wavy lines. On the right side, a large, abstract, light-green shape with curved lines dominates the space. The word "seniors" is written in a simple, white, sans-serif font in the center-left area.

Message
From
The Valedictorian

ROSE MARIE VARELA

For us, the Class of 1960, tonight marks the conclusion of our four years at Riverside High School and the commencement of a new way of life. It is a time both of sorrow and joy.

We are sad because, for many of us, this means parting from friends, since tonight we all go our different and separate ways – some to college, some to our jobs, and others to the various branches of the armed forces. We are aware that many of the good times we have enjoyed together will now only be memories and that we are leaving behind what may be the most carefree years of our lives. From here we must step into a new adult world with its complex problems and serious responsibilities. The time has come for us to stand on our own feet and live up to the obligations we owe to our parents and teachers who have guided us through these past four years.

On the other hand, we are happy that we have reached our goal – graduation. Another chapter in our lives has been completed and before us lie unlimited opportunities and challenges of expanding horizons as never before experienced by American generations. We have a better chance of securing further education, gaining success, and enjoying an interesting life with meaning. It is our duty to take advantage of these privileges and to do our utmost to become worthy of the name, Riverside High School graduates.

We leave our alma mater with some regrets, but with the confidence and courage that though the path ahead may be difficult we have been well prepared at Riverside to travel on it.

DOUGLAS BAUER

A Message From The Salutatorian

In the Musee de l'Orangerie in Paris is a mural by Claude Monet, Waterlilies, called by many "the Sistine Chapel of Impressionism". At first it is an orgy of colors, mostly greens, and then before us take shape myriads of water-plants, afloat on the face of a stagnant pond – still with little depth, little realism. But as we study parts of the canvass instead of drinking in all at once, the water begins to wave, assuming the gorgeous colors of the flowers and the tall grass – now white gleams here, now blue shimmers there (" . . . not any chameleon changes color as often as water does") – and the lilies begin to undulate with the rippling of the water. The pool becomes a mirror reflecting, not an outside world, but a universe of unfathomable inward life.

Like Monet's mural, the significance of a high school graduation has two levels of interpretation also. It is customary at commencement exercises to hear graduation called "the end of our best years" or "the finale of youth" or "the beginning of the great adventure." Ah, how romantic! But the cynics who look back on youth as "the best years", who find adult life trying because they approached it as an adventure rather than being adequately prepared, are very few. And some think the acquisition of knowledge halts when we leave school; they are equally wrong, for as we meet new people, as we find new interests, as we acquire new skills, we shall always be learning. No, high school is only a point in the onward progression of our lives, not a "turning-point", not "the moment of truth in the bullfight of life" as some graduation speaker might say, tongue in cheek.

Our Fond Farewell

(tune of "America, the Beautiful")

1. That day so long desired
Has reached its peak too soon;
And now, to our dear Riverside
We hum this final tune.
Our thoughts are turned to memories;
Those borne within these walls,
For many friends and victories
Brought laughter to the halls.

2. With hopefulness and lasting love
We bring to this dear school
Our deep respect and gratitude
Taught by the pen and rule.
We hope that through the coming years
Our efforts will remain,
And each new class in rightful turn
Will strive for greater fame.

Brenda Verguson .

Purple Say The Poets

Purple, say the poets, represents our pride
And gold, the curse of Midas' magic touch.
These colors on the flag of Riverside,
However, symbolize far more — as much
As Alma Mater's hallowed anthem can,
And graduation, cap and gown, and such.
When freshmen, our Olympiad began
Beneath that very banner; then we grew
To soph'more rank, a more devoted clan
While first we cheered the gilt and purple hue;
And when we raised ourselves to junior-hood,
Those colors won our lauding hearts anew.
But only now, their essence understood,
We seniors climb on Fortune's omnibus,
Each knowing pride no poet ever could.
The purple and the gold belong to us!

What is a high school student? To freshmen, the four years which lie ahead will be an odyssey. The widely diversified experiences which Riverside holds in store for them will be as different from their grammar school rote-learning as the wide ocean from Ithaca.

Sophomores are a little closer to the answer. They have overcome the newness of high school, that one-eyed giant which faced them as freshmen.

But the juniors at last, are nearing the goal; they are on the last leg of their journey; soon they will be seniors! For them a lofty future beckons, the odyssey of life.

The Riverside Skipper Staff

Missing pictures, incorrect write-ups, long meetings, and a general air of consternation seem to be the fate of every yearbook staff, and the editors of the SKIPPER are no exception to the rule. In spite of their newly emerged grey hair, these very same editors issue their publication in the hopes that it will provide information and enjoyment now and in the future. They wish to acknowledge the assistance of the following faculty members: Mr. Ray Helenbrook, art; Mrs. Joanne Langan, literary; Miss Jean McGarry, editorial; and Mr. Renzo Renzoni, advertising. A special vote of thanks is due to Mr. Robert Koch and Hengerer's Photography Studio and to Mr. James Miner of Baker, Jones, Hausauer, Inc.

Councils

Girls' Small Council

There are ten sweet muses who work diligently about our building. These girls represent the enthusiasm, cooperation and responsibility that is placed on each girl in the school. They are the members of the Girls' Small Council, an organization which functions daily with the aid of their advisor, Miss Alene Snell. The girls have charge of the girls' cafeteria, assembly monitors, and office receptionists. They have boosted school spirit and have accepted the responsibility of the irksome jobs which everyone else avoids.

Student Council

Two years ago, with the coming of Mr. Walz as our principal, an organization with the potential of greatly improving our school was formed. It was assumed that this organization would have to stumble about as an infant for many years before gaining the respect and cooperation of the students and faculty, and so the progress that the Council made this year with Denny Guilfoil as President, Jack Dressel, as Vice-President, and Judy Smith as Secretary-Treasurer, is amazing. This is due very much to the enthusiasm of their advisor, Mr. Foley. The council has undertaken many challenging tasks and carried them through with the savior faire of a confident, established group. They produced A Christmas Carol, the only three act play of this year; they headed the Senior Boys' assemblies; and they headed a charity drive which exceeded its goal. Most important though, the Student Council representatives and officers have become the respected leaders of our school, like the Roman senators of old.

Large Council

The large council has many branches that all work together to serve the school. Cafeteria monitors, supplied by this organization, help maintain order and see that the lunch room is left neat during all three lunches. Office monitors and all monitors are on duty all day to greet visitors, guide them to various rooms, and request hall permits from wandering pupils. Two assembly monitors are chosen from each homeroom. The various homerooms are led in by these students who are also responsible for keeping order during the assemblies.

Service Organizations

Display and Porthole

The people who work on the display team and the people who work at the Porthole render a great service to our school. Under the guidance of Miss Mary P. Engel, students interested in retailing can get experience by working in the school store. The store, which is now located just outside the girls' cafeteria, is open before school and during two lunch periods. Students may purchase their school supplies there at any of these times. Also under the direction of Miss Engel is the display team. The students work to make the display cases as attractive as possible.

Cafeteria Workers

Several students spend their lunch hour in assisting the cafeteria staff. These students serve food, work at the cash register, and prepare dishes for the machine. Their efforts accelerate the waiting line of hungry Riversiders, and they do much to facilitate the service in each lunch period.

Projection Crew

Under the direction of Mrs. Sally Baumgart, the assembly technicians maintain and operate all the necessary backstage equipment. They are on duty every week for assemblies to operate the sound, settings, and lights. Special effects in sound and lighting were evidenced at the annual Hi-Y show.

Broadcasting Staff

The P.A. staff is on duty early each morning to bring announcements pertaining to activities in the school. Students may submit announcements to be broadcasted the following morning to any member of the P.A. staff.

Assembly Technicians

It is necessary for the members of the projection crew to have a certain amount of knowledge of the stage equipment. These students operate the spotlights, movie projectors, and tape recorders.

Bank Tellers

Two banktellers are chosen from each homeroom at the beginning of the year. The banktellers accommodate pupils who wish to take advantage of the school banking system.

Riverside Y Clubs

Y is for Youth. The various Y clubs at Riverside provide a well-planned program for the students to participate in. They have furthered the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. ideals through service projects, charity drives and religious discussions as well as through social functions.

THE GIRLS' HI-Y, under the able direction of their advisor, Mrs. Wilson, have collected for charity drives, visited the Veterans' Hospital, and have made place cards for the Children's Hospital.

THE HI-YETTES with their advisor Miss Patricia Socco meet at the North Delaware Y.M.C.A. Their program includes a religious meeting once a month, joint panel discussions, and movies. In addition, they have visited the Veterans' Hospital, collected on charity drives, and visited the Crippled Children's Day School.

THE BOYS' HI-Y have been under the capable leadership of Jack Smith for several years. The boys have had skating parties, joint meetings, guest speakers, and an annual reunion of past members at Christmas.

THE Y-TEENS meet at the downtown Y.W.C.A. under the guidance of Virginia Smoher. They have conducted an auction bake sale, skating party, and a cosmetic demonstration.

THE Y-TEENETTES also meet at the downtown Y.W.C.A. with their advisor Bert VanCraigh. They have conducted a well-rounded program including splash parties, a mother and daughter dinner, and have heard a speaker on good grooming.

Co-Curricular Organizations

Saturnians

Under the direction of Miss Eleanor Siegesmund, the Saturnians have completed their fourth year at Riverside. Latin students have modeled their organization after the Roman Republic to help them learn and appreciate this classical civilization. The Latin club has started to study Greek. They have always commemorated the death of Caesar on the Ides of March.

Hebrew Club

The Hebrew club helps improve the knowledge of this language for interested students. Mrs. Roubloff, as advisor, helps to direct many skits and obtain speakers and films.

Math Club

The math club, which meets once a week with Miss Mueller as advisor, works out difficult problems proposed by different pupils or teachers. This helps prospective college students gain greater interest and skill in the field of mathematics.

Speech Activities

Following the tradition of such great orators as Demosthenes and Cicero, the debate club under Mr. Blomberg's direction attempts to show both sides of many controversial subjects when its positive and negative teams hold debates with other schools.

The main purpose of the World Affairs Club is to arouse interest in current events through explanations and discussions. Weekly meetings are held under the guidance of Dr. Helen Valentine to promote students' understanding of politics and to prepare for the annual Model U.N. Assembly in which the club participates.

Once each year, four girls vie for first prize in the Girls' Declamation Contest. Their speeches, adaptations of dramatic monologues, are judged on the basis of voice quality, stage presence, and audience reaction. This year's winner, Marcia Greenman, advanced to the semi-finals in the city contest.

Music

There are more than 150 participants in the music program under the direction of Mr. Hull. The band, which is considered one of the finest in the city, plays for all the assembly programs throughout the year except for special assemblies such as the Junior and Senior Day programs. The orchestra plays for these special assemblies. The chorus, which meets twice a week, harmonizes on old favorites. All of these musical groups unite in June to present the annual Spring Concert which blends renditions of classical and popular music.

Boys' Sports

Good sportsmanship was nurtured, in Greece, in the Olympic Games, and has thrived through the years following in the traditions built up by these Games. Sportsmanship is especially stressed in all fields of competitive sports here at Riverside. Many people representing the school take part; it is not the individual, but the whole team that makes victory possible in any type of athletics.

Football

The football team, under the direction of Riverside's new coaches, Mr. Dingboom and Mr. Simon, has had another very successful season. Defeated only once, the Frontiers earned the opportunity to compete against Seneca Vocational High School in the Thanksgiving Day game at All-High Stadium.

Track

Mr. Dingboom's track team, this year, trained hard and vigorously. There were about 35 fellows who went out for the team and this stirred keen rivalry. The school took pride in the spirit these boys showed for the school. In fact, Fran Smith ran so hard that he broke the city record for the Four-Forty. It is obvious that this year's team approached the title of the finest in the city.

Cross Country

Schools compete in Cross Country races in a series of triangular meets held at Delaware Park. The course is nearly three miles long. The record for the course set in 1946 is 15.08.6 and it has not been equalled since.

Swimming

With Coach Dingboom at the helm, Riverside's swimming team had an undefeated season. For the third consecutive year, one of RHS's swimmers, Pete Moore, received All-High honors.

Tennis

With the arrival of spring, the tennis team was out on the courts practicing each afternoon. Their will to win compensated for their relative inexperience and they displayed the marks of true sportsmanship.

Basketball

The basketball team got off to a slow start this year but finished the season with a spurt to make Mr. Moody's last coaching season a memorable one. Their improvement from week to week was astonishing even to those who are used to the surprises which are a part of every sport.

Baseball

Also under the direction of Coach Dingboom, the baseball team swung into action. With the return of many veterans from last year, a successful season was inevitable.

Go! Team! Go! Cheering their team on to victory on home ground or on their opponents' territory is no novelty to either the varsity or the junior varsity cheerleaders. Their vitality often turns the tide that marks the crucial difference between the also-rans and the victors. With the varsity cheering on the football, basketball and baseball teams, and the junior varsity sparking the cross-country, swimming, and track teams, student interest in competitive sports is always evident.

This year, captain of the varsity cheerleaders was Carol DeGlopper and co-captains of the junior varsity were Ann Burns and Margie Gidos. These girls aided Miss Huegel in training and creating the new cheers which added to the enjoyment of assemblies and games.

Girls' Sports

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION OFFICERS

Barbara Luippold, Treasurer; Penny Heurter, President; Bonnie Mercier, Vice-President; Joan Tucholka, Secretary

Again this year, the calendar was filled with girls' sports activities. Freshman girls, under the guidance of Miss Geiger, and sophomore, junior, and senior girls, under the leadership of Miss Huegel, competed in intramurals. This year, fifty-six girls received the coveted gold pin.

A gold pin signifies that a girl has earned 500 points. A certain number of these points is required each year. The freshman letter represents 150 points; the sophomore letter, another 150 points; and the junior letter, 100 points. In her senior year a girl must acquire the final 100 points.

The sports pictures on the following pages are the championship teams of various sports. During the basketball season the Sil-o-etts won all of their games. The girls in the bowling picture were the high scorers of the league with averages over 110. The girls who appear in the volleyball picture are last year's champions. Their record has since been broken by the Sil-o-etts, who were undefeated in 27 games.

The sports in which the girls may participate are: soccer, hiking, ice skating, basketball, bowling, volleyball, softball, badminton, tennis, table tennis, track, swimming, golf, and horseback riding.

The number of girls participating in athletic activities has more than doubled in the last two years. They have discovered that they profit in many ways, but most of all they learn the value of striving toward a common goal, one which they have inherited from the classic ideals of sportsmanship.

Without advertising, there would be no yearbook. It is only because of students who spend hours contacting local businessmen and convincing them that it pays to advertise, especially in the SKIPPER, that the editorial staff can function.

The students on this page are those who have used an extra spark of salesmanship to bring financial stability to the yearbook. Thomas Trosey holds the honor of top salesman with Sydney Heigaard running second. Their efforts, and the efforts of the other five champions, are evidence of the school spirit which marks a loyal Riverside student.

Congratulations to the Class of 1960

Your diploma represents an achievement of which you may well be proud!

As you continue your career, at college or in the business world, you'll find that a smart appearance is a definite asset. Successful

Men, in all walks of life, look upon KLEINHANS

as the "Alma Mater of their Wardrobes."
